INTRODUCTION

India is one of the South Asian Country. Down the line it has vast history. Citizens of India are called as “INDIANS". However India is the mixture of different culture and Tradition with 28states and different languages. Mainly India is known as Democratic Country where the citizens are free to choose his/her representative through electoral poll.

- Each state has its own language.For example:People of AndhraPradesh speak Telugu,People of Tamilnadu speak Tamil,People of Karnataka speak Kannada so as with all other states too.But the National Language is Hindi.
- English is the foreign language to Indians but in the very beginning when English was spoken by Britishers it was not liked by them.
- But slowly as the public understood the importance of the English language then started the era of English.

- Medium of instruction in English made many to pen their writings in english
- English became the pulse and breath to most of the Indians.
- There are lot many authors who wrote and focused on different genre.
- Works that are written by Indians in English can be said as “Indian writings in English.”
- Then Indians started to express their emotions, regret, love, sacrifice, truth and many more themes in their writings

- One such author is Mr.Joshua Daniel, an Indian author.

- Throughout his Life his passion was:

  - How to lift others
  - How to spend for others
  - How to lift poor
